IMAGINENANO – a new concept in Europe

Newsletter No. 2 September 2010

Bilbao (Spain) will host one of the largest European Events in Nanoscience & Nanotechnology from 11th until 14th of April 2011 at BEC (Bilbao Exhibition Centre).

For the first time, ImagineNano will comprise in 15.000 m<sup>2</sup>, 6 conferences in parallel, a huge exhibition carried out with the latest nanotrends for the future and a social component where everyone can meet and greet Nanotechnology side by side. ImagineNano will therefore gather global nanotechnology community, including researchers, industry policymakers and investors.

We expect attendance of over 1500 - 2000 participants in ImagineNano 2011 from all over the World.

◆ LATEST CONFIRMED SPEAKERS The organisation is pleased to announce the latest high level speakers from all over the world.

Invited Speakers

- Hongjie Dai (Stanford University, USA)

Invited Speakers

- Remi Carminati (ESPCI, France)
- Luisa De Cola (Universität Münster, Germany)
- Morinobu Endo (Shinshu University, Japan)
- Leo Kouwenhoven (Technical Univ. Delft, Netherlands)

Keynotes

- Danny Porath (Hebrew University, Israel)
- Dietmar Pum (Univ. für Bodenkultur Wien, Austria)
- Federico Rosei (INRS-EMT / Univ. Du Quebec, Canada)

◆ EXHIBITORS

Some companies/institutions already confirmed their presence and will make use of the exhibition held at the centre of the event in parallel with all conferences. If your organization is looking for an effective way to connect with the nanotech community to highlight its products, services or technology, do not hesitate to contact us.

◆ NANOCODE WORKSHOP (Industrial Session)

The objective of NanoCode project is to define and develop a framework aimed at supporting the successful integration and implementation, at European level and beyond, of the Code of Conduct (CoC) for nanosciences and nanotechnologies (N&N) research as developed by the European Commission.

The CoC collects together most of the concepts and values that have emerged in recent years from the debate on the governance and ethics of nanotechnologies, and is an important reference point concerning the principles that should underpin research activities, the interaction amongst key stakeholders and, in general, "good governance" for the responsible development of nanotechnologies.

The consultation process and the debate on the draft of the Master Plan will take place during this workshop involving in the first place a small number of active stakeholders identified in previous phases of the project.

This two-year project is funded under the Programme Capacities, in the area Science in Society, within the 7th European Union Framework Program (FP7).
